

The Missionary Journey of Paul Spring 2020

This unique tour focuses on the missionary journeys of Paul in Acts 13-19. After a tour of Istanbul we will visit Perge (Acts 13:13), the city Paul passed through on his way to Psidian Antioch (Acts 13:14-52). We will follow Paul's trek into the mountains heading to Psidian Antioch, but will turn west toward the Lycus Valley to visit the unexcavated site of Colossae and the nearby town of Laodicea (Colossians 2:1; 4:16; Revelation 3:14) and Hierapolis (Colossians 4:13). We will have the opportunity to visit several of the cities associated with the book of Revelation including Sardis, Smyrna, Philadelphia and Pergamon.

The acropolis of Pergamon is known for its spectacular theater and Temple dedicated to the Roman emperor Trajan. We will also visit Miletus where Paul said farewell to the Ephesian elders (Acts 20), the spectacular ruins of the temple of Apollo at Didyma and the Hellenistic city of Priene. The tour ends in Ephesus, the site of Paul's three year preaching and teaching ministry. We will visit terrace houses, examples of how the wealthy of Ephesus lived, the Library of Celsus, the agora where Paul rented a room to teach each day (Acts 19:9-10), and the theater where Demetrius led a riot to protest Paul's missionary success in Ephesus (Acts 19:23-40).

Tours of this part of Turkey often focus on the Seven Churches of Revelation. We will visit some of these locations, but our focus will be on the missionary activity of Paul. Plan to join us in March of 2020 for this exciting tour of important Greco-Roman sites which are important background for understanding the book of Acts and the letters of Paul.
